

National Enterprise Network

The home of enterprise support

“ Start-ups and early stage businesses are the future of the high street. The country’s enterprise agencies are here to help them succeed by providing financial support, advice, mentoring and hand holding.”

Alex Till, NEN Chairman

Our story so far...

We represent, unite and support all organisations who are passionate about inspiring and encouraging enterprise.

We support our membership by representing our members, promoting their successes and facilitating connections.

Our Members provide new and emerging businesses across 100% of the England with:

- Independent and impartial advice, training and mentoring
- Access to finance and managed workspace

SMEs are crucial for our economy

For over 15 years the UK has experienced steady growth in the number of newly established businesses.

Long established organisations themselves, our members have supported these new businesses, and we in turn have supported our members every step of the way.
